

Creative for Climate Justice schools and colleges Art Exhibition

Friday 12th June 1 - 2:30pm
Brodrick Hall, Leeds City Museum

You are warmly invited to join pupils and students from schools and colleges across the city for an exhibition showcasing their work on Climate Justice.

The young people would like to share their passion for people and planet with you and other decision-makers as they guide you through the exhibition.

Our young people need to know that important adults care and are listening. Please support them by coming along to appreciate their creativity and hear their views.

Please RSVP
by booking your place at

'I think it's really important to talk about the meaning of the artworks so that people know we have to work on this!' Talia, Y6 pupil

'I'm not going to forget this afternoon and the opportunity to talk to young people directly about climate change and how they see the future.' Rushanara Ali MP

'The artwork is beautiful but it also tells a really powerful story of the concerns that young people have and the things they want to see done' Catherine McKinnon MP
